

THE IMPACT OF THE MEDITERRANEAN NEW CHANCE NETWORK

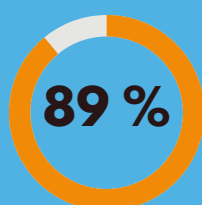

Bringing together and strengthening integration programmes to offer new chances to vulnerable young people in the Mediterranean through 4 effects :

INTERCONNECTION OF MEMBERS

100 % of the members consider that MedNC has allowed them to discover other actors (...) and structures and to establish useful or mobilisable contacts for the continuation of their activity.

"We are all learning from each other. [...] the exchange and sharing enriches in an extraordinary way.."

89 % of the members think that the network has allowed them to develop lasting links with other actors in the field of training and professional integration.

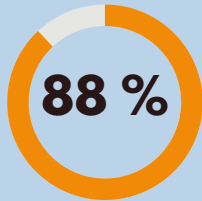

QUALITY SUPPORT

"Seeing other structures makes us think, ask questions and say to ourselves [...] we could do that too".

100 % of members consider that the network has enabled them to identify good practices or educational resources that can be used.

88 % of the members assert that the network has been a means of increasing their knowledge of existing systems and innovations.

BETTER VISIBILITY AND RECOGNITION

75 % of members find the publication of studies and good practice guides effective in mobilising public policy makers.

"The challenge for me is really to be able to rely on the network to find partners."

44 % of members consider that the network has helped them to be more visible to public players and funders.

SUSTAINABILITY AND ACCESS TO OPPORTUNITIES

"The times I mentioned the MedNC network, it was often also to help us get funding. So honestly I think yes, it has been very helpful."

66 % of members find training provided by external experts to be effective in strengthening the sustainability of their organisations

63 % consider that the network has enabled them to identify funding and project opportunities.
